TRIAL

COLONEL A. BURR.

MOTION FOR COMMITMENT.

EXAMINATION OF EVIDENCE.

TUESDAY, September 22.

John Munhollan.

Witness. Do you wish me to state where I joined the party?

Mr. Hay. Yes. Witness. I joined Mr. Tyler and Smith at Beaver in Pennsylvania. Q. Was there any agreement between you, or what was your reason for joining them? A. My first reason was my meeting with a Wm. Davis, from the back part of the state of New York. He told me that he was going down with the party to see the country, but Mr. Davis told me he could not engage me, but he would go to Beaver and mention me to col. Tyler. When Davis got to Meadville he met with major Smith, to whom he communicated my wishes and informed him that I was at Waterford. Major S. called on me at Waterford, presented me with Mr. Davis' compliments, and informed me that Mr. Davis and himself would be pleased to see me at Beaver. There I met with Mr. Tyler, he told me that he had an idea of going up the Red River to settle land. Q. Did he mention col. B's name? A. He did not mention his name while we were at Beaver. Q. And why did you go? A. I felt much disposed to see the country. Q. Was there no particular contract made with you? Not at that time.

Mr. Wirt. Was there any agency given you to engage men or provisions? A. I was sent back to Waterford to hurry on salt for salting provisions that were expected at Beaver. I was also to engage what men I could; they were to find themselves in clothes and blankets. Q. Did you engage any men? A. Yes several, about fifteen from Meadville. Q. What terms did you hold out to these men? A. That they were to ascend the Red River. Q. Were no lands promised them? No compensation? A. None. Q. What instructions did you give them, or were they to go to Tyler? A. They were to go to colonel Tyler at the mouth of Beaver for such instructions as he thought proper. Q. Did you receive any instructions as to the kind of men you were to engage? A. None. Q. As to young or old? A. I did not of course engage old men. Q. Any with families? A. Some with families did go, I was allowed to take any I thought proper. Q. Did you go to Blannerhassett's island? A. I did. Q. Was it known at Beaver that the Marietta boats were to be of the party? A. It was not. I knew that Blannerhassett was to join; but I believe the boat I was in, would not have stopped at the island, had it not been grounded. Q. Did Blannerhassett go with you from the island? A. He did. Q. Was there any difficulty about his going with you—was any vote taken? A. Major Tyler and Smith asked if he should go with us, and we said we had no objection. I was mentioned among us, that he was under some apprehension of a mob arresting him. Q. Was there any rumor or alarm among you about the militia of Kenawha or Wood county? A. We heard that there was a mob and we were determined to resist them—but we should not have resisted the militia with legal authority. Q. What do you mean by legal authority? do you mean that if they had a warrant from the civil authority you would not have resisted? A. Such was our meaning; but we would have resisted a mob. Q. What do you mean by the mob? A. If the mob had come, we should have asked for help, authority under which they acted, and if they had none, they should have gone away without gaining their intentions. Q. Was there any preparation made for resistance? A. None that I know of. Q. Any bullets run? A. There were, but they were to kill game and shoot at marks, which we frequently did on the river. Q. Where you joined by other boats? A. By two of Mr. Floyd's at the Falls of Ohio. Q. Did you see any arms? A. There were about thirty five or thirty six muskets or stands of arms, which I saw when we got to the Mississippi. Q. Any arms of any other description, such as rifles? A. There were three or four rifles. Q. What particularly happened going down the river? A. At Shawance town there was an address drawn up to the Ouachita or Western Land Speculation Company, tendering our services in any legal and honorable enterprise. This was signed by all of Tyler's party. Q. Who formed that company? A. There were no names mentioned in the address; but I considered col. Burr as one though his name was not mentioned. Q. Who drew up the address? Major Tyler and Smith. Q. Are the phrases "legal and honorable enterprise," repeated from memory. A. They are.

Q. Was it presented by Tyler and Smith? A. It was. Q. How many signers were to it? A. About 30 or 32. Q. Had you any assurance that the plan would be disclosed to you at the mouth of Cumberland? A. None, from those who had a right to be informed. Such, however, was the talk among the men as we went down. Q. When you were at the mouth of Cumberland were you introduced to col. Burr? A. I was, on the 27th Dec. We arrived there on the 28th. Q. What took place on this introduction? A. Nothing particular. Q. At this introduction did the party form anything like three sides of a square? A. A. They did. Q. Was he introduced a long the line? A. He was, to the men, one by one. Q. After this ceremony was there any speech from col. Burr? A. I was not near enough to hear what he said; but I understood that he said he would impart something at another time. Q. Did you receive any instructions to run bullets and make cartridges? A. One day, while we were in the Mississippi col. Burr came in to our boat and asked whether there was any one there that could make cartridges? I told him that I never had made any, but I believed I could make them, and I made 3 or 4 dozen. Q. Did col. Burr act as the head of the party? A. I considered him as such. Q. Did you understand that the real object was to settle Ouachita lands? A. It was so stated. Q. Was there no concurrence or particular conversation which induced to believe there was a different object? A. No.

Mr. Botts. Was there any conversation in the presence of col. Burr? A. It was not a general conversation.

Mr. Hay. Is it a fact or is it not a fact that many of the men did suppose there was a different object? A. I do not recollect, nor did I attend to them; because I did not suppose they knew more about it than myself. Q. Do you know any thing about the seizing of Baton Rouge? A. I never heard it before we got below Bayou Pierre, and then there were some conversations among the men about it. But I did not hear it suggested by any person that there was any design of invading any part of the U. S. nor did I ever hear any thing from col. Burr or any of the leaders about invading Mexico.

The counsel for the accused said that it was unnecessary to make any statement on the subject.

Mr. Hay. The present enquiry relates as well to the misdemeanor as to the treason.

Mr. Martin. We have never heard of such a charge before.

Mr. Hay observed that he had also reduced this charge to writing, and notified its existence to one of the opposite counsel, though it had never been publicly read in court. The clerk then read the paper in the following terms:

"The attorney of the U. S. for the Virginia district, charges Aaron Burr, Harman Blannerhassett and Israel Smith, with a misdemeanor against the United States, in beginning, or setting on foot, or preparing or providing the means of a military expedition or enterprise, against Mexico, a province in North America, of the king of Spain, with whom the U. S. are at peace."

Mr. Hay. It is immaterial, besides, whether this charge has been preferred; because, though the charge actually alleged is treason, yet if the other crime should occur during the investigation of the evidence, it is the province of the court to enquire into it.

Chief Justice. It would certainly be unnecessary to re-examine the same witnesses a second time.

Mr. Wirt. Did you then hear nothing of the Mexican invasion? A. I did not from any leading characters.

Mr. Hay. Who did you consider as the leading characters? A. Col. Burr, Tyler, Smith, Blannerhassett and Floyd. Q. Had you not been informed of the plan by the president's proclamation? A. That did not reach us before we got to Bayou Pierre. Q. Were you at Thompson's Bayou? A. I was. Q. Do you know any thing of the ground cleared for exercising the men? A. I assisted in clearing it.

Mr. Burr. The witness does not perhaps attend to the question: Was this ground cleared for exercising the men? A. There was a talk that it was for that purpose; but I do not know whether it was for that.

Mr. Wirt. Do you say that you never exercised there? A. Never. Q. Do you know any thing of the guard? A. Yes. Sometime in the afternoon, a young man came up a river in a canoe and said there were 4 miles, without any authority, coming to destroy the boats that night. This was told to col. Burr, and we determined to get out of their way, if possible. Mr. Floyd concluded to put out canoeing and give us information of their approach. The signal was to be the firing of a gun below Bayou Pierre. A. I do not understand you also that you did not receive the president's proclamation before you arrived at Bayou Pierre? A. I said that you had not reached us before we got to Bayou Pierre; but I am not certain whether it was there that we received it.

Chief Justice. Had you received the proclamation before the guard was put out? A. I do not recollect. Mr. Burr. Was it not afterwards? A. I do not recollect. I heard that it was contained in some news paper, perhaps in your boat.

Mr. Wirt. Do you know any thing of the search? A. I do; I was in our boat at that time. When col. Frizzant came, col. Tyler lifted the curtain and he was introduced. We did not once change our posture. Q. How many arms did he find there? A. There were a couple of rifles, belonging to a Mr. Lamb, and some pistols. Q. Did you hear of the searching of the other boats? A. I did not trouble myself about them. Q. Did you hear of the sinking of arms? A. I did not.

Cross-Examined.

Mr. Burr. How many guns had you at Beaver? A. Five rifles. Q. Did you see any more guns at any other time? A. I did not. Q. Among the four boats that went from the island, how many? A. Not more than five, that I saw. Q. Did you stop accidentally at the island? A. I supposed so first; but I afterwards understood, that colonel Tyler and Mr. Blannerhassett were connected. Q. How much powder had you with you? A. About 25 pounds. Q. Did you borrow from one or other? A. We did. Q. Was he powder scarce among you at last? A. It was. Q. Was there any game killed? A. I believe two deer were killed at the time we were at the island. Q. Was there any disturbance on the island? A. None. Q. Had you any reason to believe that any of that party would have assisted in any unlawful design? A. None. Q. Did you see a printed report by Mr. Fitzpatrick? A. No. Q. Did you understand that the country was much alarmed there? A. They were. Q. And that the party were to be mobbed? A. Yes. Q. That they were coming on board at night with tomahawks and knives? A. I do not recollect. Q. Would not the militia have suffered severely if I had not fed them? A. I know that you sent provisions over to them. Q. How many were there of them? A. About 70. Q. Did you not understand that I had made a treaty with Cowles Mead for the preservation of my people? A. I did not know it. Q. Who sent us word that we must move down to the mouth of Cole's Creek? A. Major Fleeharty. The answer from major Floyd was, that he must get more militia.

Mr. Burr. This was a peace of impudence in Fleeharty, for it was after the stipulations entered into between Mr. Mead and myself. I was at that time 50 miles off, at Washington, (M. T.) where I went to stand a trial.

Mr. Blannerhassett. Did you hear any report about arresting me the night I left my island? A. I did hear something about it, but I believe it was not before the next morning. Q. By whom? the militia? No. Mr. Hay. Did you not hear of an arrest by general Tupper? A. I did not; but the morning after I left the island, Mr. Bl. himself mentioned, that there was a writ or warrant to do it, and asked us if we were willing to take him after that was out.

Mr. Wirt. Was major Fleeharty a militia officer? A. He seemed so from his dress.

Mr. Burr. Was there not a good deal of talk about a Spanish war? A. Yes; I saw a good deal about it myself in the newspapers.

HUGH ALLEN.

Mr. Hay. Where did you embark? A. I embarked at Beaver with major Tyler and Smith. Q. On what terms? A. Mr. Tyler and Smith told me, they were going to settle lands; and that whatever profits they shared, I should share; I bearing an equal proportion of the expenses. Q. How many men did you see at the mouth of Cumberland? A. About 70. Q. Was that the whole party? A.

25 Dollars Reward.

RAN AWAY, some time in the months of November or Dec. last, a negro man by the name of SAM, who was hired in the town of Alexandria to a Mr. Robert Smith. He was about 30 years of age, about 5 feet 10 or 11 inches high, very straight, of rather a yellowish or tawny complexion, stutters a little, has a soft voice and generally seems humble and timid when spoken to. He had a wife at Col. Jamieson's in the county of Caroline, and may perhaps be lurking in that neighborhood, but I think it more probable he may have gone to the state of Maryland. If taken in the state of Virginia and brought to me I will give the above reward; if in the state of Maryland and brought to me I will give 30 dollars reward.
